MR. GLADSTONE TAKES A WALK. Rumors of Ill Health Are Found To Be Incorrect.

London, November 21.—A dispatch from Hawarden says Mr. Gladstone, concerning who was really ill, has been the scene of a terrible tragedy. A desperate fight occurred between Arthur and Edward Julius on one side, and Laurence and Edward Cousin on the other, which resulted in the killing of all the parties excepted. Shotguns and pistols were used. The weapons used were discovered.

The cause of the difficulty is attributed to an old family feud. Owing to the remoteness of the place and lack of the ordinary means of communication, the details are necessarily vague.

Now there is a man.

Two people who are trying to find the rascal who was causing all the trouble have apparently a popular task. But there is no doubt of the genuineness of the offer of the reward already mentioned. Neither is there any doubt that he will regret his failure if the victim of the scandal, or the big brother, made mention, ever get his hand on him. In fact, it is unlikely that a white man would regret the opportunity of bringing to justice an assassin of character of the caliber of this one.

I would not mind meeting him myself if I were armed with the missing pistol which Brother Bran, of Texas, is looking for.

Washington, N. C., November 21.—(Special.) The millionaire tobacco manufacturer of Twin City, whose name has been connected with a scandal that has reached almost national circulation within the past few days, authorizes the statement in the Constitution that he will give half of his enormous fortune as a reward to the man who will discover the originator of the story.

He left home last night on a business errand in his usual health, if not in his usual spirits, and will return the latter part of the week. I saw his brother, who is also his partner, this afternoon and received from him the following authorized interview, which, he said, represented the full knowledge the family has of the matter.

"Last Monday our representative in Danville telegraphed us an inquiry concerning the health of my brother and hinting at a matter of a peculiar domestic scandal. We thought it some joke of a tobacco drummer and made a jocose reply. But it was no joke to the Danville man, and he took the first train for Winston. He told us that the Danville telegraph operator had caught the story passing over the wires, and that it was spreading rapidly.

"My brother was inclined to treat it lightly, and none of us dreamed that it would ever reach the serious stage it seems to have assumed today. Since Monday we have received a daily increasing number of letters and telegrams, and we feel that the time has come for us to attempt to head the story off. There is not a shadow of truth in it. My brother has never been involved in any sort of a domestic scandal in his life, and has never been the victim of an angry physician's assault. To those who know him, this denial will not be necessary, but there may be some who will hear of him for the first time in this connection, and believe the horrible lie.

"We are doing all in our power to trace the scandal to the black-hearted scoundrel who originated it, and if we find him, I think we will be willing to swap places with the man he tried to make my brother out to be. In the meantime we only comfort ourselves by the unsolicited offers of assistance in our search.

DRINKING AND QUARRELED.

Josh Matthews Killed by Major Dell at Eufaula.

Eufaula, Ala., November 21.—(Special)—Josh Matthews, well-known negro porter, was found down dead in a street here last night about midnight, and died from the effects of the wound this morning. Matthews was drinking and met Major Dell, another negro, and a quarrel ensued. Matthews attempted to draw his knife and Dell pulled his pistol and fired. The ball, a 44-caliber, entered Matthews' stomach. Dell had not yet been captured.

PREMIER WANTS BIMETALLISM.

Meline's Speech Before the French
Chamber of Deputies.

Paris, November 21.—In the course of a speech yesterday in the chamber of deputies, during the debate on the subject of the agricultural crisis, M. Meline, the premier, expressed the hope that the day would soon come when bimetallism would triumph as a solution of the agricultural depression.

THEY WENT TO HUNT ANDREE.

Steamer Returns from a Search for the Missing Aeromot.

Tromsø, Norway, November 21.—The steamer Victoria, which was fitted out by the governor of Tromsø, the capital of the northern district, as a search vessel for Professor Andree, the missing aeromot, and his party, and which left here on November 5th, has returned from Spitzbergen. She brings no news as to the whereabouts or movements of Professor Andree, although exploring parties landed at various points in the Danmarks Isles.

"Have you any suspicion to who first told the story?" I asked.

He hesitated for a moment, and then shook his head.

"No," he said.

"Has your brother any personal enemies who might have done it?"

"Not one."

"Perhaps it was a discharged employee." "I don't think so; in fact, I don't know what to think. The more that we can do to do the best we can, and if we catch the scoundrel, I'll guarantee that."

The brother was very angry while he was speaking, and he threw in a couple of harsh curse words that the telegraph company won't let me send over its lines.

"Have you any suspicion to who first told the story?" I asked.

He hesitated for a moment, and then shook his head.

"No," he said.

"Has your brother any personal enemies who might have done it?"

"Not one."

"Perhaps it was a discharged employee."

"I don't think so; in fact, I don't know what to think. The more that we can do to do the best we can, and if we catch the scoundrel, I'll guarantee that."

The brother stopped and shook his big shoulders in a gesture which showed that the dictionary didn't contain the word he wanted, and then he closed the interview by inviting me to see some of the people of Winston-Salem, and to ask them if they believed the story or any part of it. I did this so far as was necessary, but I did not need to go far. The accused man has as many friends here as there are names in the city directory, and every man and woman of them is a walking protest to the scandal. He has lived here all his life, and even if the alleged affair had not been located here by the author of the story nobody in Winston-Salem would have believed it for a moment. There is nothing in this pretty little city on which such a rumor could have been built, for every physician is living on the best of terms with his patients.

The accused man is a bachelor, and has constantly appeared among his business and personal associates, in his usual good health, since the alleged discovery and assault. He is one of the richest men in North Carolina. If not the very richest, and nobody has a better reputation. That is why it is simple justice to leave his name out of the newspapers in presenting his defense.

How the Scandal Spread.

Baltimore, November 21.—Forty-eight men from the interior of Austria, who were arrested last week in the swamps of Mississippi by United States inspectors on charge of violating the alien labor laws, were engaged in cutting barrel staves.

The course is being surveyed on both sides of the river and the explorers have already located a pass over the range 2,500 feet lower than either Chilkat or Chilkoot.

A perfectly feasible and easy route for a railroad line into the valley of the Yukon has been discovered.

The son has been arrested.

EASY ROUTE TO YUKON VALLEY.

Pierre's Alaskan Expedition
Camped Near Chilkat Inlet.

San Francisco, November 21.—Pierre's Alaskan exploring expedition, which sailed from Seattle October 15th, reached the mouth of the Columbia River, 10 miles up the river from Chilkat inlet.

The course is being surveyed on both sides of the river and the explorers have as witness not subpoenaed to be cross-examined.

He will be cross-examined by the defense.

Upon his trial, he will declare that Mrs. Nack, who planned the谋杀, will be equal to a pious accessory after the fact.

Mr. Nack in disposing of his wife, will declare that she is dead.

The steamboat will be called the City of Macon.

A Church Carnival.

On the evening of the 27th instant the children of Christ church will hold a carnival in the church edifice.

One of the handsomest of the younger men of Macon will act as king of the carnival, and he will have with him a queen of the carnival, and the love of young women. The entertainment promises to be one of the most enjoyable that has been given in church circles in this city at a long time, and it is safe to predict that the church will be crowded.

The Centenary's Anniversary.

Next Sunday there will be a celebration of the twelfth anniversary of the Macon Centenary. There has been an entertainment program, and the members of this church will crowd the structure to its fullest capacity. It is the last Sunday of the conference year of the pastor, Rev. W. J. Branch, as well as the twelfth anniversary of the church, which is the reason for these reasons the members will all be in attendance upon the exercises. Following the program as arranged:

9:30 a.m.—Worship meeting led by the Epworth League.

11 a.m.—Anniversary services by Rev. J. L. Little, pastor of the First Baptist church.

12:30 p.m.—Anniversary exercises of the Sunday school, consisting of reports of each school, singing, and Scripture reading.

1:30 p.m.—Sustained missionary exercises, at which special programs are arranged by Mrs. J. L. Cobb and Mrs. L. H. Burroughs.

2:30 p.m.—Social gathering arranged by the Young People's Missionary Society.

A Gay Piano Tuner.

Not many days ago a letter of inquiry was received in this city asking about the whereabouts of a piano tuner by the name of Brunner. The letter came from a man away out in Kansas who stated that Brunner had been away with his wife and child. He said that they were now separated, and anxious about getting his wife back, but he was the best in the world to have the children.

These facts were reported in the Constitution's Macon dispatches at the time.

Today a letter was received at The Constitution's Macon bureau from A. R. Mitchell, of the Artillery school band, at Lawrence Monroe, Va., in which the writer states he can furnish the information desired by the Kansas man, and will take pleasure in doing so and adding to his piano tuner by the name of Brunner, who has been engaged to tune him out of $50. He states that he is at one time married to a woman named Brunner. Meanwhile the man, for whom he is engaged, from Macon to parts unknown. He had the job of tuning the organ at the First Baptist church in this city, and it is said that he did the work very well.

The lady, a former Columbia girl, came to Columbia today, and hearing that an investigation was being made into the case, she remained here just as though she was a widow and need search no further for her husband.

The remains were interred, and in a few days will be removed to the family burying grounds at Wallaceville.

Municipal Politics in Americus.

Americus, Ga., November 21.—(Special)—In the superior court last week the most important criminal case was that of the state against George Lovett, charged with murder. Lovett was defended by Oliver & Overstreet, of this place, and T. S. Morgan of Savannah, who was of circumstantial evidence, and the defendant was acquitted.

Ben King was found guilty of shooting at another, and fined $100 and costs of twelve months in the chain gang.

Jesse Stoen was found guilty of assault with intent to murder, and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

John Robinson found guilty of shooting another was sent to the penitentiary for three years.

Mr. Williams spoke of the plan of universal brotherhood, proposed by the theosophical society and a leader in the international brotherhood league. Chief among the speakers was Rev. W. Williams, of Bradford, England, a former clergyman of the Church of England, but now a leader in the cause of theosophy.

Others allowed to be asked by outsiders.

One of them was "What is the true position of a workingman in life?" In substance the reply was that the workingman is an agent of divinity, a link in an infinite chain.

"How can philosophy help workingmen to realize the nobility of their calling?" was a question replied to by Mr. E. D. Stowe, who said by encouraging them, showing them their divine nature, etc.

"Why is brotherhood discussed so much in this day?" was another question, replied to by Mr. Walker C. Hanson, who said there is a new spirit abroad in the land—the spirit of compassion.

Mrs. Mayer, of Buffalo, N. Y., spoke of the children's department of the International Brotherhood League. She urged that sincere is the thing for children, claiming that when a child is silent it is most eloquent.

Tonight the anniversary celebration drew a great crowd of invited guests. It was a social session and was greatly enjoyed.

ROASTS THE COMMISSIONERS.

HOLDERY SAYS BIBLE SHOULD BE TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS.

Preached a Sermon to the Junior Order of American Mechanics Yesterday.

Atlanta's school commissioners received a caustic roast from the pulpit of Dr. Holdery in a special sermon at Moore Methodist church yesterday morning.

Dr. Holdery was very plain and decided in his remarks and declared that the foolish blot up Atlanta's escutcheon was placed there by the author of authorities to establish Bible lessons in Atlanta's schools.

The occasion was a special Thanksgiving service complimentary to the Atlanta council of the Junior Order of the United American Mechanics, a strong, prosperous and progressive organization, of which Dr. Holdery is a member. From the root "For He is thy life, and the strength of thy days" Deut. xxx:20, Dr. Holdery said that Moses, just prior to his death, was delivered from Mt. Sinai and was warning the children of Israel, and the message came to nations, as well as to individuals. No man can live safely and prosper without God. Neither nations live safely and prosper without God. When the Israelites turned their backs on God they, as nation, were soon scattered, with Rome, Greece, France and other nations.

The prime importance is to learn that there is a God. A man who denies God is a fool. A nation so doing is an eternal blight upon the earth. God has gloriously revealed His name in the works of creation, in public political and official conduct. His public influence by whatever nation or people refuse His teachings or to teach His word. The mere name "religion" doesn't imply a knowledge and fear of God and His teachings. The nations of India, Africa, Japan and elsewhere, could not be educated, educated so soon their religion would be lost.

We are to retrace our steps to their level! Shall we tolerate the reflections upon our God and our religion by the refusal to admit the teachings of His holy word to our rising generation?

"Would such an administration, nor would I unite church and state, but I would have selected passages as lessons from the Bible, taught somewhat similar to present methods of Sunday school lessons, and I would have every public official have and carry a Bible as his public guide."

"The moral prosperity of this nation depends upon the education of our children. All nations are prosperous in proportion to their Bible study. The laws of England that stopped car wheels, mails and other methods of deserting the Sabbath were founded on the Sabbath keeping of the Christians who first settled this glorious American republic brought with them the Bible and based even rules of government upon its teachings, and it has since prospered as no nation on earth ever before or since, prospering, increasing rapidly from thirteen to forty-seven states, with a glorious independence."

"The Bible and its teachings will keep us for peace, plenty and prosperity, will keep gnostics, skeptics and infidels from efforts and from getting hold of reins of government. Thank God, no sensible man would today vote for Bob Ingersoll for public position."

"Without the Bible and its teachings the sanctity of marriage relations would cease. We would have no Sabbath and no marriage law. In France there is no Sabbath, and there is no marriage tie. There is no love, unbridled love, no man, no wife, no religion, else vice will corrupt man and property. God deals with nations as with men. Dr. Holdery urged his audience to push vigorously forward with renewed zeal to attain the ends of their organization—virtue, liberty and property, and to never stop until they had accomplished their present undertaking—to plant the flags of America over every public school and to place the Bibles within the schools. Bury in oblivion every man who betrays your efforts."

The doctor severely arraigned the school authorities for their recent refusal to introduce Bible teachings in Atlanta's schools.

REVIVAL CLOSES AT Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Elliott Delivered an Eloquent Sermon Yesterday Afternoon.

Rev. J. H. Elliott, the evangelist, terminated his series of meetings at the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday, when he spoke to a crowded house on the subject: "Hidden Places of Men."

The lower floor was packed to the doors with men, and the gallery was well filled with ladies.

The discourse was one of the most eloquent ever heard in that auditorium, and the speaker was given the closest attention throughout. His text was, "What will you do when the Jordan rises?" and he drew many precious lessons therefrom. As "Hidden Places of Men," Dr. Broughton, Mr. Smith, Charles W. Swain, John Park, Henry Gibson, Kate Gilbert, Charlotte Lambert, Lowellell, Linda Da Costa, Every attention will be given to the environment of "The Geisha."

There will be a Thanksgiving matinee Thursday afternoon.

Richards & Pringle's minstrels, combined with Rusco & Hollings' minstrels, will accommodate the crowds at the Columbia theater Wednesday and Thursday evenings and a special Thanksgiving matinee Thursday afternoon.

HOUSE IS IN IT AND THE SENATE, TOO

Hon. Hewlett Hall To Offer For the Attorneyship.

MAKES INTERESTING SITUATION

It Is Said That the Representative from Coweta Will Be Race.

SENATOR DUNWODY ALSO IS THERE

These Are Said To Be Planning To Get in the Fight for Attorney General.

Hon. Hewlett Hall, of Coweta, is to offer for the state attorneyship.

This phase of the political situation is just now eclipsing all other features in interest, for the two houses of the general assembly are arrayed against each other in the matter of presenting candidates to succeed the present attorney general.

Senator Harry Dunwody is also said to be in the race. This has been known for some time, but not until yesterday was the report brutalized in a general way that the gentleman from Coweta would also announce.

Mr. Hall has been prominent in the affairs of the house for some time. As chairman of the penitentiary committee he has held a conspicuous place during the agitation on the change in the system. He has been identified with several important measures, and the first bill presented to the house for the change in the lease system bore his name. As a factor in the general assembly, Mr. Hall bears weight, and his legal experience served him well in various matters of concern to the state. For some months he has been playing a leading role, and his decision as to testimony in the Carter investigation is well known.

Representative Hall of Coweta, will place the resolution before the house and his idea carries with it the theory that every section of the state will be represented on the committee; that it will be an impartial measure, and is the fairest way to stop the prolonged debate and secure the best solution.

Just now the discussion upon the question is at its height. There are those, however, who think enough has been said and believe it is time for definite action. For this reason Mr. Hall will push his measure.

MANSFIELD PRIZE FIGHT BILL.

The bill of Uncle Joe Mansfield to legalize prize fighting will come up for consideration on this afternoon.

Uncle Joe believes that his measure is not dead. He says that he has called to his support enough who favor the many sport to reconsider and to pass his bill.

"I think that the time is ripe for Georgia to take action on this question," said Mr. Mansfield. "I believe that scientific sport should be encouraged. These aviations have been adopted by all the countries, with the exception of the Atlanta Grays, and why not?"

Senator Dunwody is also to go into the race.

T. P. A.'S CALLED TO SPECIAL SERVICE

Central Congregational Church Crowded
With Them Yesterday.

THE PROGRAMME WAS UNIQUE

Dr. Atkisson Delivered a Sermon Appropriate to the Occasion.

SPOKE OF BUSINESS AND RELIGION

The Services Yesterday Will Likely Be Followed by Others Equally as Interesting and Successful.

Yesterday was commercial men's day at the Central Congregational church.

The strength of the congregation of Atlanta, however, the church was crowded to the doors. It was the first time in the history of the city that these men were to attend services held for their especial benefit. The day was also one of great importance to the travelers. It was the first time they had ever been invited to a church and they were proud of the honor done them. They also had made preparations. To the lapel of the coat of each one of them was fastened a pretty white badge on which an inscription in blue letters told of the occasion.

The travelers met at the Kimball house at 10 o'clock. At half past ten, fifteen minutes later, a long line of them, walking two by two, headed for the church. So great was their number that they completely filled the church. It was the largest number of commercial men that had ever attended devotional services at a church in the history of the city.

Other organizations have had services of their own held for their benefit many times but never before had a church set apart a day for commercial travelers. This fact made the services yesterday an important event in the history of the Travelers Protective Association of Atlanta.

From the outset of the services there is no doubt that commercial men's services will be held frequently. The travelers appreciated the honor done them in their recognition by the Central Congregational church and showed their appreciation by the large attendance.

A set of appropriate services will be proposed extending to the pastor and congregation of the church the thanks and best wishes of the commercial men of Atlanta.

Programme of the Services.
The programme of yesterday's services was arranged in a beautiful manner, being in the shape of a small book on the trade mark of the T. P. A. on the cover and the title and contents printed in blue ink. The programme was as follows:

Minister (rising)—"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of Doxology" (all rising)—"Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

Invocation by the pastor, and the Lord's Prayer by the deacon standing.

Gospel Hymn No. 4 (3 verses)—"Praise Him, Praise Him" (All standing, all singing.)

Scripture Lesson—The twelfth chapter of Romans (Congregation standing).

Minister—"May the Lord bless the reading of this word."

Gospel Hymn No. 26 (Verses 1, 3, 4)—"The Child of a King" (All standing and singing.)

Gospel Hymn No. 40 (3 verses)—"In the Shadow of His Wings" (Sitting and singing.)

Pastoral Prayer (Congregation seated). Response reading (Congregation standing and all invited to respond.)

Pastor—"The strangers did not lodge in the street; they opened my door to the truth." Job 31:9.

People—"Now therefore ye are no more strangers, and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God."

Pastor—"And Moses said unto Hobab, we are journeying unto the place of which we have said, I will go, you come with us, we will do the good for the Lord hath spoken good concerning Israel."

Numbers 10:29.

People—"The Lord is good unto them that wait for Him; to the soul that seeketh Him." Lamentations 3:25.

Pastor—"Go to now, ye that say, today or tomorrow we will go up to such a city, and continue there; year, and buy and sell, and get gain." James 4:13.

Fathers—"They say, that that which falleth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding, for the merchandise of it, is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold." Proverbs 13:12.

Pastor—"Again, the kingdom is like unto a merchantman seeking goodly pearls: who when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all he had, and bought it." Matthew 13:45, 46.

People—"Buy the truth and sell it not, also wisdom and instruction, and understanding." Proverbs 22:23.

All—"For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God, your body and in your spirit, which are God's." 1 Cor. 6:19.

The Apostles' Creed and Gloria. (Standing.)

Closing—For the church universal, with ejaculatory prayer (Organ offertory.)

Sermon by Rev. Robert D. Atkisson.

"Thine Own Religion into Business."

"But," said the Lord thy God, "for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth."

Deuteronomy 8:18.

Prayer.

Gospel Hymn No. 74 (Verses 1, 2, 3)—"God Be With You." (All rising and joining.)

Benediction.

Dr. Atkisson's Sermon.

The sermon preached by Dr. Atkisson was of special interest to commercial men, the subject being, "Your Religion into Business." It was directed especially to trading men and was both eloquent and interesting. It was well received and enjoyed by those present being full of practical ideas.

Dr. Atkisson spoke as follows:

"But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God, in that thou hast given these power to get wealth."—Deut. viii. 18.

It affords me great pleasure this Sabbath morning to speak to a large number of men representing the commercial trades of our great commonwealth. You are a part of the one-half million or more of the population of Atlanta, and are engaged going to and fro all up and down the country representing in trade the vast sum of capital and merchandise. Your enterprise, I call you "picked men," for such you are, since competition has become so intense that only the flower of our land is left. Your chief object of life, your avocation is to get wealth, and six days out of the week this is deeply impressed on your minds, but for the Sabbath or Lord's Day you have chosen from the ancient scriptures these words: "But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God, for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth." In order that I might show you the close relation that exists between true religion and material wealth. "Remember the Lord thy God" right here, and carried out places you side by side with God in word. It reminds you at once that you are not content with the Sabbath, but enters into all the days of the week, nor is He looked up in the church, but in some way finds all the business relations of men. True religion is a flower to be hidden away between the leaves of the Bible, but is a haven to perchance the flower of the life of the world. The Lord does not consider the weight of the scales, attending church once or twice a week, nor the ringing of the bells in the village, nor the giving of alms, nor living a kind of negative, passive, innocent life, or in withdrawing from the world and entering into monastic life. In search of purity. Not there is nothing so refined or professional in it. It is found in doing the work of God. In the man whose character is developed. The man who hammers iron, sees types drives the dray, lays the earth, carries the soil, runs his goods, praises his wares, if he confines himself to the truth, is worshipping God, as though he listened to a sermon or read a psalm or administered in benevolence those who think that religion is something on which the minister and the few pious ones in a community have a cinch, are far from right. It cannot be set aside for business or for pleasure. There is no authority in such a thing. It is not for the drink or whatsoever ye do, do all for the glory of God." Here the end is, in the midst of business, to grow number. "The sun comes up, the rains pour down from the clouds, the seasons bear to us their harvests, and we say they are from God. Sir, doth not 'tis thyself that art related to him in many ways in securing it. Your talents are his gifts; your energy and strength are the offsprings of his beneficence. If you have not the natural powers for getting wealth, you are simply his stewards. You are at last God's agents and to him above all others are we called to serve. We were made to labor. "By the sweat of thy face shalt thou live." is the experience of the ages, as well as the verdict of the world. The secret of the world is found centered about these two propositions. Laziness is the cause of all sin. Work is man's redemption. Men lie rather than tell the truth, that they may not live by bread alone, but we are nowhere told that he can live long without bread. Activity is essential to his health and happiness. The arms people are for the want of use; so with the brain; so with the spirit. Activity is the supreme panacea for the soul. Religion does not come in as an after thought with God in regard to man. It is included in the creation of man. It is the expression of man's creation, his nature. If you have it, you are not likely to turn all that you have and are to the service of the devil. That man who never enters the church is not likely to enter the warehouse, office or shop into a sanctuary, but stands in danger of turning the sanctuary, "so far as he is concerned, into a shop." So then the ancient command which says, "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work; enjoin rest on the Sabbath." Then we are told that he can live long without bread. Activity is essential to his health and happiness. The arms people are for the want of use; so with the brain; so with the spirit. Activity is the supreme panacea for the soul.

So then the ancient command which says, "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work; enjoin rest on the Sabbath." Then we are told that he can live long without bread. Activity is essential to his health and happiness. The arms people are for the want of use; so with the brain; so with the spirit. Activity is the supreme panacea for the soul.

Religion does not come in as an after thought with God in regard to man. It is included in the creation of man. It is the expression of man's creation, his nature. If you have it, you are not likely to turn all that you have and are to the service of the devil. That man who never enters the church is not likely to enter the warehouse, office or shop into a sanctuary, but stands in danger of turning the sanctuary, "so far as he is concerned, into a shop." AN OLD GAMBLER TALKS OF REFORM

Holcombe Once Handled the Pasteboards,
Now He Preaches.

HOW HE CHANGED LIFE

He Spoke to a Large Crowd in the Columbia Theater Yesterday.

TOLD OF HIS DAYS WITH THE DECKS

Learned To Play Cards When a Child and Kept It Up All His Life.
What He Had To Say.

Rev. Steve P. Holcombe, the reformer gambler, spoke to a large audience in the Columbia theater yesterday afternoon. The hour was set for 3 o'clock, but before that hour arrived, the people began to flock to the auditorium, and the minister found the house comfortably filled when he arrived.

He took as his text "The Gambler," and he spoke to the effect in a masterly manner.

It was really the story of his life that he told, and he used his experiences to point out the paths of right and wrong to those who heard him.

A good collection was taken up and it was done something toward helping the minister, who is doing so much good in this city. Mr. Holcombe was introduced by Mr. John F. Barclay in a few words, but as the speaker said when he arose, he really needed no introduction to an Atlanta audience.

"I do not want you to think today that I have begun preaching because I did not make a success of the gambling business, nor such is not the case. I do not mean to brag, but I must say that I am a good speaker and in my business as well as the rest of the boys. I stopped at the Kimball house when I gamboed and never won a cent, and now I am traveling around speaking for missions and we not rare have as well."

"Do not get it into your head that I am a gambler, but I just used to do what you might not think me an old broken down gambler, who started in the ministry because of the love of God, and was converted for twenty years and I am not old man yet by many means.

"I used to play cards with a lot of them, and seven or eight gambled for money at a time. In my youthful experience as a gambler I was a failure, so far as gains were concerned, but I was invariably lost. But notwithstanding my continued losses, my mother's terrible beatings, a gambler would be.

"In these early days gamblers were not afraid to speak their minds, and

I am sure that you know that I am not afraid to speak my mind.
